TOO MANY TO BE TRANSPORTED TO THIS CITY THIS WEEK BY RAIL-IF THEY ARE TO COME TRANSPORTS

WILL HAVE TO BE PROVIDED.

[DY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBENE.] Camp Wikeff, Montauk Point, N. Y., Sept. 12 -Unless Colone! Kimball has some plan by which the regiments at Camp Wikoff can be taken to New-York otherwise than by rail, it will be abso lutely impossible to have them all there by Saturday, even though the regiments begin starting to-morrow. There are now in the camp the 1st, 2d, 4th, 6th, 7th, 8th, 10th, 12th, 13th, 16th, 17th, 21st, 22d, 24th and 25th regiments of infantry, the 1st, 2d, 3d, 6th, 9th and 10th regiments of cavalry, batteries E and K, of the 1st Light Artillery; Batteries A and F, of the 2d Light Artillery; Battery F. of the 4th Light Artillery; Battery F, of the 5th Light Artillery; Batteries A and B, of the 1st Heavy Artillery; Batteries G and H, of the 4th Heavy Artillery and six companies of the 2d Regiment, United States Volunteer Engineers.

The Long Island Railroad people say that it would take them from twenty to thirty days to move all these troops, and that they could not handle much more than one regiment a day. if all the cars were here, and there were not daily long freight trains coming into Montauk loaded with supplies for the troops. But the trains for the transportation would have to he brought down here, also stock trains for cav alry horses, of which there are several thousand here, as well as freightears for the baggage and flatcars for the guns of the artillery, and that would take considerable time.

If the troops are to go to the city for a parade on Saturday, they will have to go by water, and the quartermaster will have to furnish transports for their removal. However, nothing official about the parade has been heard to-day at General Bates's headquarters, possibly because General Miles had not included the Camp Wikoff troops in his orders, but the opinion seemed to prevail among the officers at headquarters that it would be next to impossible to have the regiments in the city on Saturday, unless the Quartermaster's Department furnished water transportation the way of the abandonment of the camp by the end of the week. If the War Department orders the troops will be here not only for the equinoctial, but for any storms and cold weather that may follow it. The nights and mornings are already beginning to be chilly. This morning at sunrise it was seven degrees colder than yesterday, the thermometer standing at 61. To-night at sunset it was 65, three degrees colder than last night at the same hour.

With this temperature there is a steady breeze, and the men so lately returned from southern climes feel it keenly. They consequently more than welcome the orders that will send them back to barracks, which they are now sure are not far off, and while they would be glad to participate in a parade in New-York they will not be greatly grieved if there is no interruption in their journey after they are once

The 3d and 20th Infantry, which were not included in the list given above, are going home to-morrow morning, transportation having arrived to-day, and the 21st only remaining behind because there has been some hitch about their transportation. The 9th Infantry has already gone, so that the exodus of the troops has already begun. Even in the event of the abandonment of the camp by Saturday, there will will have to remain behind hecause their condition is such that to move them would only endanger their lives. These men will be cared for and housed in the wooden inclosed wards.

by hundreds daily. Three hundred sailed tonumber will be taken to New-York to-morrow night on the Shinnecock. In the desire to close up and practically abandon the detention hospital. Mrs. Geraldine Bailey, director of the National Relief League, and Miss Hewley, daughter of General Hawley, who represents the Soldiers' Rest, of Weshington, think that some have been removed whom it would have been wiser to retain longer in the hospital here. This they say is not the fault of Major Ebert, the surgeon in charge of the detention hospital, who has been most attentive to the sick who have been in his charge. The detention hospital has now only eighty-five patients, and in the course of a week they will be reduced to twenty-five, for whom a wooden building is being constructed. The Reugh Riders expect to be out of the service to-morrow, and all possibility of their parading in New-York has now vanished.

All their equipment has been turned in, their horses have been appraised, which means that their control has practically been assumed by the Government, and the regiment could now turn out only on foot, and in the uniforms they are allowed to keep. They feel there would be little giory in turning out in such style, and the officers say the regiment would not want to take part in any such sort of "clam chowder" affair.

The various canteens in camp have come. night on the Shinnecock. In the desire to clos to take part in any such sort of "clam chowder" affair.

The various canteens in camp have come under a new order, which prohibits the sale of ples, icc cream and cake. The doctors have found that after they have cured men up in the pies, lee cream and cake. The doctors have found that after they have cured men up in the hospitals, and turned them out well again, they promptly upset their stomachs by an over-indulgence in these luxuries, which are not the best things to turn loose in weakened stomachs.

Colonel Roosevelt has finished his report. This is to be sent to the President, who is to receive a similar report from every general and colonel who served in the war. There will be nothing given out here as to what these reports contain. They are official reports, and if given out at all will be made public at Washington, when it suits the Department to do so.

Colonel Forwood, who has had general supervision of the hospitals here, is preparing to go back to his post of duty in Washington, as his work here is finished. Dr. Brown may remain in charge of the hospital here until it closes.

The deaths reported from the general hospital to-day were as follows:

WALTER ELLGER, Company 2, 34 Intanty; dysantery.

The men who arrived on the Shinnecocl yesterday were in considerably better shape than those who were brought to this city on the earlier trips of the same vessel. Major Borden thought that every man was on a fair way to recovery. Each man who arrived had pinned on the lapel of his coat his name and regiment, with a description of his filness, so that the nurses and doctors knew exactly how to treat each case. The cool weather has proved very beneficial to the sick soldiers, and eir transfer from the ship to the patrol wagons and carriages was accomplished with much less discomfort than on former occasions. General Breckentidge is incensed at the action of Major Ward, and has summoned him to report at "amp Thomas at once and explain his action. It is the present intention of General Breckentidge to summon a court-martial to hear Major Ward's case. General Breckentidge himself is not satisfied with the report. He says it makes many general charges, but none specific and that the Commission was appointed to fix the responsibility for all the resief and incompetency it charges upon some particular parties, and that nothing short of that will be satisfactory.

OFFICIAL CORRESPONDENCE MADE PUBLIC

Washington, Sept. 12.-The plan of having parade in New-York of the troops returning from Porto Rico and those at Montauk Point has been abandoned. This is the result of conferences on the subject between the President and General Miles and of consultations with Army officers in New-York and at Camp Wikoff. To clear up any misapprehension on the subject, Acting Secretary Mciklejohn this afternoon decided to make public the entire correspondence so far in this matter. It is as follows:

ence so far in this matter. It is as follows:

New-York, September 6.

Hon. William McKinley:

The people of the city of New-York are sincerely desirous of witnessing a review of the United States soldlers, Regulars and volunteers, before they are disbanded or distributed, and they earnestly hype and respectfully request that you will exercise your authority to give them an opportunity to see the troops and show their appreciation of the service which the soldiers have rendered to the country. A committee of citizens has this day been appointed to take action in this matter, and the people of this city are ready to act at once.

ROBERT A. VAN WYCK, Mayor.

ROBERT A. VAN WYCK, Mayor.

Executive Mansion, Washington, Sept. 6.

Hon, Robert A. Van Wyck, Mayor, New-York City.

Your message of the 6th is received. It would be very gratifying to me if the health of the soldiers will allow to permit a review which would enable the people of the city of New-York to show their appreciation of the brave men in the last three months who have performed such heroic services to the country. I will direct that the commanding generals, as well as the medical officers, of the Army now at New-York and arriving there shall report upon the probable effect upon the health of the troops of the parade you propose. If they report that it will not be injurious to the soldiers in their present conflicion, during the heated term, and is agreeable to the officers and soldiers themselves, it will afford me special pleasure to comply with your patriotic suggestion.

Major-General Shafter, Montauk Point, N. T..

The Mayor of New-York has asked that the troops recently returned from duty in the field be allowed to parade in the city. In your judgment is the scheme feasible in the very near future? The Secretary of War desires that you have full consultation with your best medical officers before mailing roply to this inquity, having due regard to the wishes of the Mayor of New-York and at the same time the careful consideration of the well-being of the officers and men of your command.

I have consulted with Colonel Forwood and division surgeons. In their opinion and my own this command cannot creditably parade in New-York

Washington, September 10, 1898.

Respectfully returned, recommending that the troops coming from Porto Rico be encamped at Brooklyn or the most available place near NewYork City, and parade through Brooklyn, over the Brooklyn Bridge, on Saturday one week from today. Also, if in the mean time it shall be found advisable and it can be done without hardship to those troops at Montauk Point, Long Island, that they unite in the parade as above suggested, and should next Saturday prove unfavorable on account of the weather, that the ceremony take place on the first fair day following. If approved I will give the necessary instructions accordingly,

Hon Robert A. Van Wyck, Mayor, New-York City:
The commanding seneral at Montauk Point was instructed to consult his medical officers as to the advisability of the parade suggested in your telegram of the 6th inst. Major-General Shafter concurs in the report of these officers, that in their opinion "it would not be advisable to parade the troops in New-York or elsewhere before October 1."

The exigencies of the service are such that these troops will be moved to a more suitable camp before that date, which will render their participation in the parade impracticable. The troops returning from Porto Rico are already directed to proceed at once to their homes for furlough and muster out. General Miles, however, recommends, under date of September 19, that these troops "be encamped at Brooklyn of the most available place near New-York City and parade through Brooklyn over the Brooklyn Bridge on Saturday (September 17), one week from to-day"; and he has been authorized to make the necessary arrange ments to that end.

The following organizations remain to arrive from Porto Rico; Sixth Illinois Volunteer Infantry, Iwo

Hon. William McKinley, President of the United States, Washington D. C. Your telegram of this date received. The people and officials of the city of New-York will give a warm welcome to all troops that may parade here next Saturday, and they sincerely regret that you find the conditions are such that all the Regulars and volunteers cannot then be present. The citizens and officials of the city of New-York extend to you and to the members of your Cabinet a cordial institution to be present on that occasion as the guests of the city.

ROBERT A VAN WYCK, Mayer.

No further information of an official character was received from Washington by the Mayor yesterday, but late in the afternoon it was known at the City Hall through press dispatches that General Miles had decided to advise against any parade of troops in the city on Saturday. Some of the officials at the City Hall said that the plan to have troops parade over the Brooklyn Bridge might have been dangerous if it has not been abandoned. With the Bridge already overloaded with trolley and elevated cars, they said, there might be a calamity if the troops were allowed to march over and thousands of people were allowed to go on the atructure to see the parade.

Earlier in the day, before information of the abandonment of the plans for the parade had reached the City Hall, President Guggenheimer, of Chattanooga, realisted of the Second Division port as to the condition of the Second Division Hospital has got Major Ward, of the commission Twenty to make arrangements for a demonstration Hospital has got Major Ward, of the commission appointed to investigate the hospital, into serious irrouble. Major Ward and the two other members of the Commission had completed their report, so far as setting evidence and details, and the report was being hypewritten for submission to General Brockennidge, when Major Ward received leave of absence and went to his home.

There he gave the contents of the report to a Western newspaper, and it went broadcast ever we were received at the city. I wently to make an every on the troops arriving in the city. I thought that there would be a parade of the troops on Saturday, and he sent out a call for a meeting of the committee to take place in his office in the committee to take place in his office in the committee to take place in his office in the committee to take place in his office in the committee to take place in his office in the committee to take place in his office in the committee to take place in his office in the committee to take place in his office in the committee to take place in his office in the committee to take place in his office in the committee to take place in his office in the committee is of the committee in the committee in the c

Army Building last night to discentinue all arrangements for a parade of troops on Saturday, a message reached Colonel Kimbali, of the Quartermaster's Department, which ed the officers at the building to believe that there would be no parado. The message was from Major-General Miles, and Montauk troops do not take part in the parade: such a smal, part of others remaining I cannot ad-vise them to take part in parade. Do not think parade will be ordered. Prior to receiving this message Colonel Kimball was husy arranging for the care of the troops to arrive here for the parade. He had sent word to General Miles, asking him to send an aid here to assist in the arrangements, and had been advised design in the arrangements, and had been advised that Captain Foltz, of General Mire's staff, would come on at once.

Colonel Kimbail also recommended either Rea Girt, N. J., or Forest Park, Brocklyn, for the encampment of the troops when they should arrive from Porto Rico. The Colonel expressed a preference for Rea Girt, as it was already equipped. General Miles, after these singsestions were made, talked with Colonel Kimbail, over the telephone, and suggested that a camp might be established on Westawken Heights, which would be nearer the city. Colonel Kimbail, over the telephone, and suggested that a camp might be established on the Engineering Corps, to Weshawken to report on the suitability of that place. The result of General Miles's dispatch is that all arrangements for a parade, as far as the officers at the Army Building are concerned, are at a standstill. The troops at Montauk who are ordered home will at once proceed on their way, and will not be held.

No attangements for transporting the troops who will arrive mere to-morrow and Thurrday from Porto Rico on the transports Manitoba, Alamo and Concho will be made. The orders now stand for placing these men in camp, and as soon as the authorities at Washington decide on the situation of the camp, supplies will be shipped to the called at the Army Building and the abandonment of the parade.

General C H. T. Collis, chairman of the subcommittee appointed by Mayor Van Wyck to prepare for the proposed parade, sent this telegram last night to General Miles:

It seems incredible that the victorious armies of Cuba and Porto Rico should be dissolved without an opportunity to reselve the popular plaudits awaiting them. It is cruel to them and little encouragement for the future. The people are not anxious to get rid of them: they want to see them, and the soldlers have a right to see the people
whose cause they have so wonderfully defended.
Regiments ordered to their objective points from Montauk must necessarily pass through this city.
Why not rest here overnight? The proposition is a simple one. The line of march would not exceed three miles on asphalt pavements, and abundant transportation for those who are fatigued would be provided. Why not order the Rough Riders and other volunteers to be mustered out in New-Yek instead of Long Island. Have no fear that the limited time will prevent proper arrangements for reception. The Mayor's committee arranged for the welcome of Sampson's fleet in forty-eight hours.
Kindly reply to Mayor's office, where we meat it
a. m. to-morrow, and will remain in session until you have conferred with the President, if you so desire.

BATTLE-SHIP PROBLEM SOLVED.

OTHER BIDDERS ASKED TO MAKE THEIR PLANS CONFORM TO THOSE OF THE CRAMPS. Washington, Sept. 12 .- The Navy Department has arrived at what it regards as a fair and satisfactory settlement of the question of awarding the contracts for the construction of the three battle-ships. When the bids were opened it was found that for the fast ships desired the Newport News Company was the lowest bidder. the Cramps next, and the Union Iron Works just above, all being within the limit of cost fixed by the act of Congress. It was the original plan to award the contracts in that order. But on examination of the plans submitted by the bidders it was found that the only thoroughly satisfactory one was that submitted by the Cramps, who had simply taken the alternate plans suggested by the Navy Department, which amounted to lengthening the hulls of the ships from fifteen to twenty feet in order to gain room for the more powerful engines required to drive the ships at a speed of sines required to drive the ships at a speed of 1814 knots instead of 16 knots as first proposed.

After considering the subject in all its aspects, the Board of Naval Bureau Chiefs has hit on a solution of the question. They have invited the Newport News Company and the Union Iron Works to amend their plans so as to make their ships identical with those proposed by the Cramps. Mr. Scott, of the California company, has agreed to do this already, and the representative of the Newport News Company has really agreed to do the same, so it is the understanding that cach of the companies will receive a contract for one ship.

NEWFOUNDLAND A LAWFUL PRIZE OF WAR COURT DECIDES THAT THE BRITISH STEAMER

WAS A BLOCKADE RUNNER. Charleston, S. C., Sept. 12-In the United States District Court here to-day Judge Brawley handed down a decision condemning the British steamship Newfoundland and its cargo to forfeiture as a lawful prize of war.
